Dear Sir

Cancer is the uncontrolled growth of Abnormal Cells anywhere in a body. Anything that may cause normal body cells to develop abnormally potentially can cause cancer. Treatment Protocols vary according to the type and stage of the cancer, most treatment protocols are designed to fit the individual patient disease.

I Dr Arun Prakash Dwivedi (Surgical Oncologist) has done my Master of Surgery from GSVM, Kanpur & MCh from SAMC, PGI, Indore in Surgical Oncology. I am former fellow in TATA Memorial Mumbai & get so many experiences to treat the Cancer Patients.

I decided to serve those Cancer Patients who are not able to get the treatment from the reputed organizations in India. Today I am working in Dhanvantri Super Speciality Hospital, South Kanpur.

I have done more than 250 Cancer Surgeries till date in which I treat all kind of Cancer Patients. My aim is to treat cancer patient from all segments of the society without any discrimination. We have facility of palliative surgery & Pain management.

The only thing as relentless as cancer is my commitment and dedication to fight it which I instil into all my Patients.
